'Bald Jack' Rose Declares Police Lieutenant Wanted Rosenthal Murdered

Was Willing to Have Him 'Shot, Dynamited or Anything'

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Turkish troops on the Montenegrin frontier are offering stubborn resistance to the Montenegrin advance on Scutari, according to the latest advice from Podgoritz. Fighting has been severe and both armies have lost heavily. The Montenegrin army is advancing in two columns, one to the north of Lake Scutari and the other, having its base at Antivari, to the south of Lake Scutari. King Nicholas' infantry proved admirable.

"I want Rosenthal murdered, shot, croaked, dynamited, or anything."

ROSE "MAKES GOOD." Notwithstanding that it is Saturday, when adjournment is usually taken over the week-end, the trial of Becker went on as usual.

"Bald Jack" Rose, chief informer against Becker, was called to the witness stand at 10 o'clock. It was expected his testimony and cross-examination might occupy the entire day. Before going on the stand Rose said:

"I am going to make good. I know what I am going up against, but I'm going through with it. I don't care what happens. I have only one regret in going on the stand. I have met and known some decent people, and now, through me, they will be disgraced. I wish that nobody but myself need be dragged into this, but I shall tell every detail of the most awful plot that ever was hatched."

The jurors are held in the strictest seclusion at their hotel when not in court. Even telephone connection in their rooms was cut off.

There was a craning of necks in the courtroom to see the arrival of the PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Aviator Marshall B. Reid and Henry C. Mustin, a Lieutenant commander in the navy, were found today in Delaware bay after they had clung for more than three hours to the wreckage of the hydro-aeroplane in which they started yesterday to fly from Cape May to this city.

The engine of their machine exploded while it was flying at the rate of 40 miles an hour over the bay and both man and aircraft plunged like a shot into the water.

An oyster boat picked up the men, who finally had moved to a buoy the wreckage of which had been kept afloat by its pontoons.

ATRSHIP IN FLAMES. "When we were about twelve miles from Cape May flying about 150 feet in the air and making 40 miles an hour, the engine behind us exploded," said Reid describing his thrilling escape from death. "The aeroplane caught fire and we dropped like a plummet right down into Delaware bay. We were lucky. Flames were extinguished by the water."

His temperature was normal, but he still complained of slight pains in his head. The attending physician said Weaver was not suffering from conusation of the brain or a fractured skull, as was first believed.

GENERAL COMMITS SUICIDE.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Desperate fighting for the possession of Barana, between the Turkish and Montenegrin armies in the vicinity of Lake Scutari, is in progress. The town has been repeatedly taken and re-taken by both sides, says a dispatch from Cettinje today. Turkish troops repulsed the Montenegrins after another sharp engagement at Tush.

The Montenegrin general, Lazovich, has taken the place of General Bozovich, who committed suicide when the King reproved him on the field of battle for wasting ammunition.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 12.—The relief of the town of Barana by Turkish reinforcements is reported by the military commander of Scutari today. He also says the Turks have captured the heights around the town of Gusinje, near the Montenegrin frontier to the north of Podgoritz.

ROSE DRAWS BECKER DEEP INTO POLICE NET

Recounts Lieutenant's Alleged Dealings
With Murdered Gambler

rowed courtroom as the bald-headed gambler began to testify. Rose said he had known Rosenthal for 20 years and Becker for several years. The witness did not look at Becker as he gave his testimony but the former police officer was told Rose intently. Rose spoke in deliberate tones.

"Did you ever have business relations with Becker?" he was asked.

"Yes, I collected money for him."

"I object as incompetent," shouted John J. McIntire, of the defense.

"Overruled," ordered the court.

Rose then told of meeting Rosenthal and Becker in the Elks' Club on New Year's celebration. Mrs. Rosenthal was present. Becker said to Mrs. Rosenthal, according to the witness: "Now, don't worry. Herman and I have a thorough understanding. He is my friend and I'm his friend, and his troubles are all over."

TELLS OF PARTNERSHIP.

Rose said he met Becker again at his house and at the Union Square station, when Becker told him the details of the alleged partnership in the gambling house between Becker and Rosenthal.

"Becker," Rose testified, "told Herman he had made a proposition to him that he go into partnership with Rosenthal in running a gambling house, and had asked him to invest $5000 in it. I said no, I never made any money in the gambling business with Rosenthal."

Becker, however, continued the witness did not agree and made a proposition to allow Rose to take a 25 percent share in the business of the proposed establishment. Becker took a $2500 chattel mortgage on Rosenthal's property and arranged for a "dummy" to hold the mortgage.

"Beck," he asked me," the witness went on, "he would take charge, and I said 'would'."

The witness told of conversations with Becker in which the police lieutenant inquired what were the profits of the gambling house.

REFUSES MONEY.

"I reported to him on one occasion that the house had made several thousand dollars," said Rose. "He told me to tell Rosenthal to send him $500. I went to see Rosenthal and Rosenthal said he would not give it because he thought he had not had a square deal on the mortgage. I told Becker. Becker said that just as soon as his attention was called to that place he would raid it. He told me to tell that to Rosenthal. I told Rosenthal, Rosenthal said,

"You tell Becker he can't raid this place unless he gets the proper evidence, and he can't get it because I know all his men and they can't get in here."

"So that's his attitude, is it?" Becker said when I told him this. "All right, I'll raid it. Tell Rosenthal."

Rosenthal sent back word by me to Becker: "Tell that fellow he'd better not start anything with me."

BRANDS IT BLUFF.

The next day Becker told me that Commissioner Waldo had called his attention to the place and he (Becker) would have to raid it. I told Rosenthal, and Rosenthal said: "Tell Becker he can't bluff me. I don't believe Commissioner Waldo ever called his attention to my place."

"Several days later Becker told me that complaints were pouring in and he would have to raid the place. He told me to see Rosenthal and tell him to do his work."

"Becker has to stand for a raid," Becker said. "He did him a favor and now he must do a favor for me. I'll raid the place and it will relieve me from worry, and in a few days he can reopen his place and everything will be all right."

Rosenthal replied to me: "You tell Becker he must think I'm crazy to stand for such a thing. He might as well take a torch and burn it up. It's my place and I'm going to handle it the way I think best."

Then Becker told him what Rosenthal said.

"Well, I'm going to raid the place, and raid it in a few days—within a week."

HYPERIC WORN AFRAID.

"I told Becker it would only cause trouble and he didn't care what you wore to worry about that; it will only cause trouble for Rosenthal. It will only cause trouble for Rosenthal."

"Well, do you want me to tell that to Rosenthal?" I asked.

"No," he answered. "I'm through with that fellow."

"A few days later Becker told me that he was going to get two men from the strong arm squad to swear to the evidence."

"There's awfully dangerous, Charlie," I said.

"No, he said. "It's all right. I'll stand by and help him get the mortgage off his place if it's the last thing I do."

"I'm not going to do it right," I said. "I'm not going to be in the house when it is raided."

NEWLYWED ARRESTED.

Again, Rose testified, "Rosenthal and Becker, and the police officers who were still standing in front of his place, and said he was born because his wife's nephew was taken in the house, and his next meeting with them was at his own house."

"He told me," Rose said, "that Rosenthal had been calling him up every day asking a meeting to find out what was going on in about the incident against the men arrested in his place. He put Rosenthal up to Becker, and after Becker said Rosenthal began to talk around street corners, and he was in partnership with Becker and was going to show him up."

"Becker a few days later told me of having seen Commissioner Waldo and that the commissioner had heard Rosenthal's charges and had not believed them."

"Becker said to me: 'That fellow Rosenthal is getting dangerous.'

"I said: 'Nobody will believe Rosenthal.'

"Well," he answered, "so long as Commissioner Waldo does not believe him, I guess there's nothing to worry about."

"I asked Becker if he had taken the policeman out of Rosenthal's place," he said. "Well, I told him: 'as long as that man stays there Rosenthal will talk.'

"I don't care much what he says," Becker replied.

"Did you and Pecker discuss newspaper interviews that Rosenthal had given?"

HAD PAPERS "TINED."

"Yes, Becker told me that I should not worry about that, that he had Jack Stilley looking after the papers and that Rosenthal could not get anything printed." Later Becker told me the man's paper had gotten an affidavit from Rosenthal and was going to print it.

"I guess Rosenthal means to do what he said he would—to squeal and break me," Becker said.

"I'll get a couple of gang men," I told Becker, "and go around and tell Rosenthal that if he does not stop his attack on you something will happen to him."

"Oh, hell," Becker said. "I don't want the fellow beaten up. If I did beat him up myself or have him beaten up for resisting arrest. But a beating up won't do for him. He must be put where neither you nor I nor anybody else will ever have to worry about him again."

WHAT HE WANTED.

"What do you want done with Rosenthal?" I asked Becker during the conversation," the witness testified.

"I want him murdered, shot, crooked, dynamited or anything," Becker replied. "I want him put where we will never have to worry about him again."

The witness here told of Becker's alleged instructions to him to get out on ball "Big Jack" Zelig, the gang leader, then in the Tombs, and have Zelig's men put Rosenthal out of the way.

"Do you know sentiment at headquarters is so strong that they don't care if Rosenthal is put out of the way?" Becker asked. "I want you to go over to the Tombs and see Zelig and ask him to give orders to Zelig Rosenthal tonight. I will see that Zelig is out on the street."

"Becker gave me $100 to take to Zelig. 'I'll meet you tomorrow morning to see what Zelig says,' he told me. 'Tell him that there will be no danger to him.'

DIDN'T WANT MONEY.

"I saw Zelig and then gave him the $100 and told him that it came from Becker." Rose continued. "Zelig said: 'I don't want that $100; I want to get out of here. You and Becker got me into this trouble.' I told him that the $100 was just a little favor from Becker and that he was not to worry."

"Zelig said: 'If you want to do me a favor, get me out. I won't do anything for Becker unless he does get me out.'

I saw Becker next day and told him that Zelig wanted to get out and would not do anything until he did get out."

Rose said he went to the home of the four gunmen, "Gyp the Blood" and his pals, and talked over the Rosenthal situation. He told them, he said, that Becker would "frame them up" if they did not "croak Rosenthal."

They agreed to do it that night.

"Rose said they had delayed "doing the job" and Becker had insisted that they "hurry it along." He told of a plan to kill the gambler at the Garden restaurant. It failed, he said, because of a suspicion that private detectives were present and guarding Rosenthal. "Becker got hot at this," Rose added. "He kept asking 'why all this stalling? Why don't you get him? One day he'll raid it. Now this going on so long. Either you are stalling them or these fellows are stalling you."

"I told Becker that the detective squad had been called to the restaurant, and he said, 'Well, do you want me to tell that to Rosenthal?'" I asked.

"No," he answered. "I'm through with that fellow."

"A few days later Becker told me that he was going to get two men from the strong arm squad to swear to the evidence."

"There's awfully dangerous, Charlie," I said.

"No, he said. "It's all right. I'll stand by and help him get the mortgage off his place if it's the last thing I do."

"I'm not going to do it right," I said. "I'm not going to be in the house when it is raided."

LAST TRIBUTE TO H. A. KLETZKER

Funeral Services Held Over the Remains of Respected Tribune Employee.

Tribute was paid the long and honored service of the late Henry A. Kletzker this afternoon, when sorrowing friends and associates, together with the beloved family, gathered at his bier to pay their last respects for one of the best known printers in the bay region. The funeral services were held at 8:30 from the undertaking parlors of James Taylor, followed by cremation at Mount View.

The broken wheel, symbol of the mechanical world in which he had for many years taken an active part, was a beautiful floral design contributed by members of THE TRIBUNE News Chapel, Oakland Typographical Union. From THE TRIBUNE, where he has been a respected employee for more than 15 years in the composing room, was sent a large wreath of white chrysanthemums. The Pressmen's Union sent a cycle and sheep floral design, while many personal friends expressed their esteem by individual sprays and wreaths.

Members of the Typographical Union attended the funeral in a body, while other unions connected in the make-up of the newspaper were also represented.

Kletzker was an officer of the Typographical Union for several terms. He died yesterday morning at his home, 1138 Bella Vista avenue, following an illness of two weeks. He was 61 years of age. The decedent is survived by a widow, Julia A. Kletzker, two sons, Edward A. and Harry Kletzker, and a daughter, Mrs. Leo B. Champman. He was a native of St. Louis, Mo.

Besides his trade union, Kletzker was a member of Fraternal Brotherhood, No. 122, and Royal Arcanum, Sierra Council, No. 1642.

The following resolutions have been sent to the family of their late comrade by THE TRIBUNE Chapel:

On October 11, 1912, Henry A. Kletzker, for eighteen years an honored member of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE Chapel, passed to a higher life. Loved and respected by all who knew him, and especially by those who have worked with him daily, will remember him for many kindly acts to which the world at large was not witness, having observed his better feelings of humanity, which were exhibited without disguise. The memory of his virtues will rest in the hearts of all beyond the portals of the tomb. Now be it

Resolved, That in the death of Henry A. Kletzker THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE has lost a valued and loyal employee; the members of THE TRIBUNE Chapel a faithful friend and co-worker, and unionism a firm and consistent advocate; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to his family and that a copy be forwarded to the Typographical Journal for publication.

ROLPH THANKED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Mayor Rolph this morning received a telegram from Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, which was presented to him yesterday and was sent by the Flying Legion, which recently visited Victoria. The presentation was made by Alderman Bullock. The telegram read: "Dear Mr. Rolph, I thank you for your kind words of welcome to Victoria. I am sure you will be pleased to learn that our people are well pleased with your visit."

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the beffled mind, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, hollow and circled eyes, result most often from those disorders peculiar to women. For the woman to be happy and good-looking she must naturally have good health. Dragging-down feelings, hysteria, hot-flashes or constantly returning pains and aches—are too great a drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and correcting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing symptoms.

"I suffered greatly for a number of years and for the past three years I was a misery case," writes Miss H. F. Dickey, of Utica, Ohio, Dicke 4. "The doctors told me I would have to go to a hospital before I would ever be better. A year ago this winter I was so bad I had to go to a hospital. I am now well again and in full health. I have been well for five months that I know something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. W. H. Pierce telling him as nearly as I could how I suffered. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed and the last two months of my life have been a picture of health. I have never suffered since. Dr. Pierce's medicine is the best I have ever had and has never suffered since. I wish I could tell every suffering woman the world over what a boon Dr. Pierce's medicine is. There is no wasting time and money doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The previous Adviser by H. V. Pierce, M. D., wrote: "Miss H. F. Dickey, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know. Best free on receipt of 31 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only."

TAFT URGES LEGISLATION IN FAVOR OF THE FARMER

Plans Based on Principles of European Agricultural Co-operative Credit

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 12.—Radical legislation in favor of the American farmer and consumer as a means of solving the question of the high cost of living was urged by President Taft to-day in a letter to the governors of all the states.

President Taft proposed to reduce the cost of foodstuffs on the American dinner table by reducing the cost to the farmer of producing his crops. This would be done by establishing in the interest of the farmer a financial machine which would give him access to all the money centers of the world, and upon more advantageous terms than he now receives. The complete development of our agricultural resources which this would make possible, thinks President Taft, would go a long way toward settling the problem of the high cost of living.

"What this plan offers," writes President Taft, "is a means to secure this country greater productivity, at less cost, from the farms that are now under cultivation, and, above all, to give us more farmers and more farms."

OPPOSES PLAN.

The plan suggested is based upon the principles of agricultural co-operative credit now in use in practically every country of Europe. Uniform state legislation, in the opinion of President Taft, is essential to the success of this plan, and upon this the governors are invited to confer.

"We must establish a credit system for the farmer which will make it possible for him to adopt improved methods. It must be made profitable for him to place every acre of his ground under cultivation. This offers the consumer relief from the increasing cost of foodstuffs."

OPPOSES PLAN.

Taft strongly deprecates any idea of establishing co-operative credit in the United States through the support of government subsidies.

"We must establish a credit system for the farmer which will make it possible for him to adopt improved methods. It must be made profitable for him to place every acre of his ground under cultivation. This offers the consumer relief from the increasing cost of foodstuffs."

President Taft bases his recommendations on reports submitted by the American diplomatic officers in Europe who, since last March, have engaged in an investigation of this question, and upon the special report of Ambassador Myron Herrick, which has made a study for years of the question of adopting co-operative credit in the United States.

"A study of these reports," writes President Taft, "and of the recommendations of Ambassador Herrick, which I am sending you, convinces me of the adaptability to American conditions of the co-operative credit plan as set forth in the organization of the Raiffeisen banks of Germany. The establishment and conduct of such banks, however, are matters for state control. I suggest, also, the establishment of land-mortgage banks under state charters, and the formation of co-operative land-mortgage societies along the lines of the Landesbanken of Germany, provided that uniform state legislation can be secured to govern their organization and operation. As a later step, I favor the enactment of laws by Congress permitting the organization of national land-mortgage banks to be operated under strict government supervision with the power to guarantee and market the guaranteed debenture bonds of the state land-mortgage banks or co-operative societies. I recommend for your consideration the report and recommendations of Ambassador Herrick, now published by the Department of State for general distribution.

$10,000,000 INTEREST.

"The 12,000,000 of farmers of the United States and each year to the national wealth $8,000,000. They are on the borrowed capital of $8,000,000. On this sum they pay annual interest charges of $510,000,000. Counting commissions and renewal charges, the interest rate paid by the farmer of this country is averaged at 6% per cent, as compared to a rate of 4% to 3% per cent paid by the farmer, for instance, of France or Germany.

"Again, the interest rate paid by the American farmer is considerably higher than that paid by our industrial corporations, railroads or municipalities. Yet, I think, it will be admitted that the security offered by the farmer to the land mortgage banks is quite as sound as that offered by the industrial corporations. Why will not the investor furnish the farmer with money at as advantageous rates as he is willing to supply it to the industrial corporations? Obviously, the advantage enjoyed by the industrial corporations lies in the financial machinery at its command, which permits it to place its offer before the investor in a more attractive and more readily negotiable form. The farmer lacks this machinery, and, lacking it, he suffers unreasonably. This is not theory.

"But the advantages to be gained by the adoption of this plan go beyond the direct aid in the production of the farmer. The great necessity which prompted the establishment and extension of this plan throughout Europe was that of checking the rapidly advancing increases in the cost of foodstuffs, brought about by the inevitable increase

W.C.T.U. OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

Mrs. Sarah J. Door of San Jose Is Again Chosen as President.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Sarah J. Door of San Jose was re-elected president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of California at this morning's session of the state convention. The other state officers were also re-elected, there being little or no opposition. The officers are:

Vice-president-at-large, Addie Garwood Estes, Stockton; corresponding secretary, Miss Annie Chaoa, San Francisco; recording secretary, Mrs. Emily M. Shou, Petaluma; treasurer, Mrs. Iowa M. Hotchkiss, San Jose; editor, Mrs. Anna J. Jones, San Jose; secretary for Young People's branch, Mrs. Ethel Estes Sappington, Stockton; secretary for Local Temperance Legion, Mrs. Mary F. Gilley, San Francisco.

Seattle Labor Leader Objects to Producing Union Records.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—H. W. Pohlmeyer, the Seattle labor leader, who was cited for contempt in the United States court here for having refused to produce union records before the federal grand jury in the dynamite conspiracy investigation, arrived today on the train from Indianapolis. Pohlmeyer said he would take the documents to Indianapolis with him, but would make a fight against presenting them in court when he testified at the trial of the union leaders who are accused by the government of being implicated in the country wide dynamiting plot.

YOUTH OF 16 A DRUNKEN TRAMP

Lad Discovered Asleep Knows Name, But Can Give No Account of Himself.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—A 16-year-old boy, who says he only knows that his name is Frank Hastings, was in the West Side police court recently before Magistrate Krotel, charged with intoxication. He was found in that condition sitting on a bench in the 56th street subway station.

The boy was committed to the care of Ernest J. Wendel of No. 8 East Thirty-seventh street, who is trustee of the Trinity church corporation.

Special Policeman Farnsire noticed the boy, and when he awoke him found him to be in an intoxicated condition. He placed the boy under arrest, and retained him in the station house. Hastings slept in various subway stations, and that at no time was the boy able to give an account of himself.

RAILROAD SEEKS TO BUY FRANCHISE

Southern Pacific Wants Right of Way Granted H. G. Cutting by Richmond.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The railroad companies have filed with the railroad commission a petition for a rehearing on what are known as the San Francisco warehouse cases. On October 4, 1912, the railroad commission rendered a decision in these cases, rendering the warehouse rates. The warehouse companies now claim that these rates are still so low that the warehouse business cannot be conducted at a profit. They ask that the railroad commission reconsider these cases and increase the rates which have been allowed.

"In Europe this problem has been successfully met, first, by reducing the cost to the farmer of producing his crops and secondly, by increasing his production through the adoption of improved methods of cultivation. Both the federal and state governments in this country have done much to afford the farmers instruction in improved agricultural methods. But, it still remains for us to reduce the cost of the farmer's production after affording him the capital for the exploitation of his soil upon the most advantageous terms."

"What this plan offers," writes President Taft, "is a means to secure this country greater productivity, at less cost, from the farms that are now under cultivation, and, above all, to give us more farmers and more farms."

OPPOSES PLAN.

Taft strongly deprecates any idea of establishing co-operative credit in the United States through the support of government subsidies.

ACCUSED OF POSING CLOSING QUESTION AS SKILLED M. D.

Alfred L. Briggs Is Arrested in This City on Grave Charge.

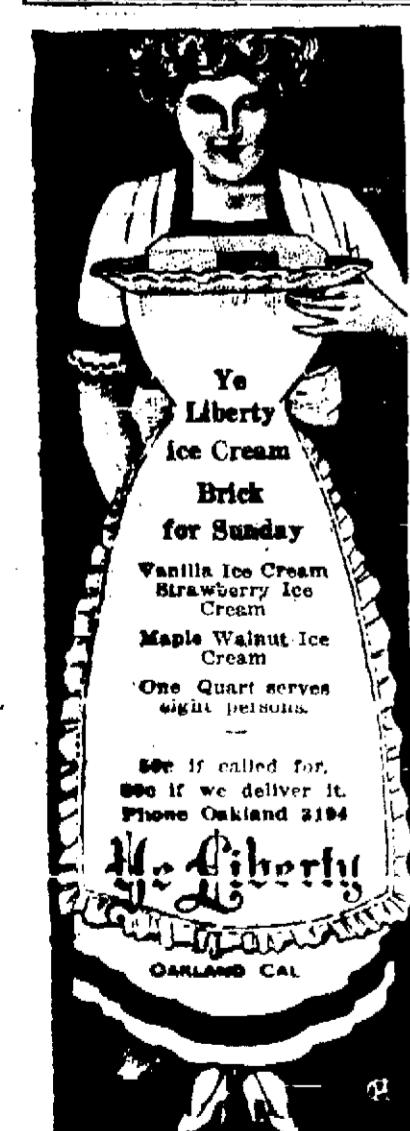

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Charged with posing as a physician and administering to the needs of Mrs. A. Dalzell of 125 Perry street, at the time of the birth of her child several weeks ago, Alfred L. Briggs, who claims to be a surgeon from England, was arrested in Oakland this morning and brought over to the city prison. He was accused of practicing medicine without a license.

According to Detective Harrison, who made the arrest, Mrs. Dalzell's baby died soon after birth and the circumstances surrounding the hiring of Briggs to attend her, led the authority to investigate her.

Harrison said that Mrs. Dalzell, in her need, hurried to a drug store to telephone for a doctor. While she was looking in the directory, Briggs approached, informed her that he was a physician and was told by her that she needed immediate attention. It is claimed that he returned with her to the house and treated her.

Briggs told the officers that he had come here recently from Los Angeles. A further investigation will be made.

CHURCHMEN PAY HOLMES TRIBUTE

Secretary of Men and Religion Movement Is Guest of Honor.

H. N. Holmes, executive secretary of the Men and Religion Forward movement, was the guest of honor at a banquet given at the Key Route Inn at noon yesterday on the eve of his departure today for Honolulu in the interests of the movement. The banquet was attended by prominent church workers. B. B. Wilcox, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, presided.

The opening address was delivered by Rev. A. W. Palmer, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, who told of the work of Holmes while associated with the movement here.

Palmer and Holmes were the Oakland representatives at the recent Men and Religion Conservation Congress in New York.

Remarks were also made by H. J. McCoy, general secretary of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. and senior secretary of this coast, and F. A. McCarty, secretary of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

Holmes was presented with a token of appreciation from his fellow workers here. The closing address was given by John Fetter, assistant general secretary of the Oakland Y. M. C. A.

Holmes has just returned from New York, where he prepared for the coming world tour of Fred B. Smith, national leader of the Men and Religion Forward movement, and Raymond Robbins, social service expert.

Holmes will act as advance secretary and make the campaign organization abroad. The itinerary includes Honolulu, Japan, Korea, China, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Great Britain.

Holmes will depart for Honolulu tomorrow on the Empress of Asia.

The steamship Wells Fargo is at the United Engineering Works undergoing repairs.

MARSHALL BLACK IS UNDER ARREST

Progressive Leader Held In County Jail; Bond Fixed at $10,000.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 12.—State Senator Marshall Black, the defaulting secretary of the Palo Alto Building and Loan Association, is under arrest. He is in the county jail here awaiting bonds to the amount of $10,000. He was taken into custody late yesterday at his residence in Palo Alto by County Detective William J. Dreschmeyer and Deputy Sheriff William J. Bigger. He is charged with having passed a check for $16.34 upon the Wells Fargo Express company in Palo Alto when he had no funds in the bank. The check was for charges on eight chickens valued at $27.

Information which reached District Attorney Arthur M. Free that Black was preparing to leave the State was the reason given by the County Prosecutor for this sudden arrest. It had not been planned to take the State Senator into custody until an indictment was returned against him by the Grand Jury of Santa Clara county which will convene next Monday.

Officers Dreschmeyer and Bigger left for Palo Alto shortly after noon and went to Black's house.

"I have a warrant for your arrest," Bigger told Black. The Senator was taken en surprise and hesitatingly said, "All right."

Black notified Attorney Louis O'Neal that he had been taken into custody and asked him to prepare to get bonds for his release. O'Neal made a plea to have Black's bail reduced from $10,000 to a smaller amount, but upon the objection of District Attorney Free, who declared that he had information that Black was preparing to leave the county, Judge Wallace refused. O'Neal denied the report.

WILL NOT DISCUSS CASE.

Black refused to discuss any phase of the case. When met by a battery of reporters his first question was: "Who won the world's championship game today?"

Black endeavored to become interested in the story of the ball game that had been given him in an afternoon paper, but finally submitted to a few questions. "I have no knowledge of the transaction for which I have been arrested," declared the Senator.

"Have you handed in your resignation as Senator to the President of the Senate or the Lieutenant Governor?" Black was asked.

"I have not."

"Do you intend to present your resignation soon?"

"I have not given the matter any thought," was Black's answer.

The prisoner was visibly worried over his incarceration. Jailer Howard Buffington booked him on the prison records as "State Senator." Black was worn and haggard, he had a shifting eye and showed every sign of uneasiness.

His attorney declared last night that the defense of the defaulting secretary of the Building and Loan Association would not be insanity. What the defense would be O'Neal refused to say.

It is rumored about San Jose that several of these checks which were returned from the Palo Alto bank marked "no funds" have been redeemed by Attorney O'Neal.

DEATH CLOSES ACTIVE LIFE OF H. J. CROCKER

THE LATE H. J. CROCKER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Henry J. Crocker, president of the West Coast Life Insurance Company, and one of the most prominent figures in the commercial life of the Pacific coast, passed away at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning in Adler's sanatorium. Crocker had been suffering from heart trouble for some time. His illness was not believed to be serious until ten days ago, when he was removed from his home at Laguna and Washington streets. Although little hope of his recovery was held out by his physician, Dr. William W. Kerr, the news of his death was a shock to a large circle of friends.

Henry J. Crocker was born in Sacramento in 1881. He was the son of Clark W. Crocker, a pioneer resident of the capital city, and a brother of Mrs. William Cary Van Fleet, Mrs. Fannie Crocker McCready and Mrs. Frederick H. Green. After his marriage with Miss Mary Isabella Green, he moved to San Francisco and entered the local business world, where, in addition to the presidency of the West Coast Life Insurance Company, he held the office of vice-president of the H. S. Crocker Company.

Under the administration of Governor George C. Pardee, Crocker was a member of the board of harbor commissioners. In 1903 he entered the political field and ran as Republican candidate for mayor against Eugene E. Schmitz. In club circles Crocker was well known and was a member of the Pacific Union, the Family, Bohemian and University clubs.

He is survived by a widow and five children, Miss Marlon, Miss Kate, Miss Mary Julia, Harry and Clark Crocker.

William H. Crocker, president of the Crocker National Bank; Charles Crocker, president of the H. S. Crocker Company; Templeton Crocker and Mrs. Malcolm Whitman are his cousins.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock

Sunday afternoon from the family home, 2301 Laguna street. The interment at Cypress Lawn will be private.

PETALUMA'S NEW FIRE ENGINE IS WRECKED

PETALUMA, Oct. 12.—Petaluma's new expensive fire engine was badly wrecked on the banks of the river during the official test by the Fire Underwriters of San Francisco, and not until today was it learned that two sections of oil-soaked cotton waste had been placed in the oil feed pipe.

Just how that material got into the pipe is a mystery to the engine driver and the engineers who are here with the machine. It is the general impression here that the engine, which cost Petaluma nearly $9000, has been tampered with. Material for repairs is now on the way from the East.

STYLE BLAMED FOR FAILURE OF FIRM

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Jackson-Mack Manufacturing Company, one of the largest makers of fancy petticoats in New York, came into bankruptcy today. The failure is the culmination of a widespread complaint among petticoat manufacturers that the close-fitting dresses now worn by women have so reduced the demand for petticoats as to make them a glut on the market.

A lecture on "Columbus Day" will be given by a speaker to be chosen later.

Donald Wood will contribute a song. Several other numbers will round out an exceptionally fine program.

KILLED IN ELEVATOR FALL.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 12.—Mabel Dorothy Salter, a 16-year-old apprentice, aged 18, fell 35 feet down an elevator shaft yesterday afternoon and was killed. She had opened the safety door, was looking upward at the elevator when she lost her balance.

Her mother, Mrs. R. H. Salter, is in a critical condition in a Los Angeles hospital.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 12.—A verdict for $14,000 and costs was awarded for the plaintiffs, Loomis & Co. of Danbury, against members of the United Masters Union of North America in the United States District Court here last night. Under the Sherman anti-trust law, this award will be upheld, making the total amount $24,000.

CONVICT STRIPES TO BE ABOLISHED

Only Badly Behaved Men to Wear Glaring Badge of Shame.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—Within another month three-fourths of the convicts at San Quentin and Folsom will discard their suits of stripes and dress in the plain clothes of civilians.

This step in California's prison reform now being instituted by the Board of Prison Directors was announced yesterday by Colonel Charles Sonntag, one of the directors.

The measure eliminating from the life of most of the convicts the visible manifestation of his shame will go into effect when the special committee appointed by the board to

A False Plea for Annexation.

"It is impossible to effect this general organization (municipal consolidation across county lines) at present, for the Constitution is so worded that no political organization can cross county lines," says the San Francisco Chronicle. The editor of the Chronicle should read the State Constitution for a change. Section 3 of Article XI of the Constitution of California provides as follows:

"The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, may provide for the alteration of county boundary lines, and for the formation of new counties; provided, however, that no new county shall be established which shall reduce any county to a population of less than twenty thousand; nor shall a new county be formed containing a less population than eight thousand; nor shall any line thereof pass within five miles of the exterior boundary of the city or town in which the county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated."

Section 2 of the same Article provides that "no county seat shall be removed unless two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting on the proposition at a general election shall vote in favor of such removal. A proposition of removal shall not be submitted more than once in four years."

So there is a way to consolidate cities and counties or parts of cities and counties as the law stands, but it requires the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors, and such propositions must be voted on at general elections and can only be submitted once in four years. San Francisco can annex the whole of San Mateo county at any time with the assent of the Legislature and two-thirds of the voters of the county. But she cannot divide the county and leave a remnant of less than twenty thousand population in the old county, nor draw the line of division within five miles of the present county seat.

It is to get over the restrictions which protect the smaller counties from spoliation and dismemberment that San Francisco has gotten up this artfully worded and malignantly planned annexation amendment. She wants to strip San Mateo, Alameda, Marin and Contra Costa counties of their population centers, picking out what she wants and leaving what does not please her fancy, and leave the mangled rural districts to shift for themselves. She wants to draw boundary lines where she chooses, and above all she desires to get rid of the provision of the Constitution which requires the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors before a county can be dismembered or annexed, as well as the requirement that the Legislature must give consent.

Moreover, San Francisco wants to call annexation elections between times and as often as she chooses.

The restrictions placed on county dismemberment were only adopted in 1910, yet here is San Francisco asking that they be repealed, and that the door be thrown wide open to dismemberment schemes having annexation for their object. Thrown wide open for San Francisco, mind you, and closed to all other cities. San Francisco is asking for a special privilege that will place her smaller neighbors at her mercy.

Montenegro is a tiny power, but apparently she thinks she is strong enough to lick a sick man.

Mayor J. C. Owens of Richmond—a popular citizen and a good mayor, by the way—is impudent in going against Sumner Crosby (of Alameda) for State Senator. In the first place, he is a bona fide resident of the district, and nobody but carpet baggers are eligible to entry in the Senatorial race. Again, Mr. Owens lacks the official endorsement of Al. McCabe and does not make his home in Alameda county. We warn him that Alameda wants the Senatorial job for Crosby. The citizens of Alameda are in hopes that Crosby may be induced to move over into Contra Costa if the people of that county will elect him Senator. They have nothing against Mayor Owens or Contra Costa county, but they would like to present Crosby to some other community, not necessarily as a mark of good will and esteem, but on the principle that distance lends enchantment. The further off Crosby is the better he looks.

Some Facts About Ulster.

One would think from the clamor the Belfast Orangemen are setting up that all the inhabitants of Ulster are Protestants and all opposed to home rule. But such is not the fact. In five of the nine counties of the province the Catholics have an absolute majority, and the non-Catholic majority in the whole province is only 190,812.

Sixteen of the thirty-three members of Parliament elected from Ulster are Nationalists (home rulers). A considerable body of the Protestants of the province are home rulers. Lord Pirrie, head of the great Harland & Wolff Shipbuilding Company of Belfast—the largest in the world—a Protestant, is a Liberal and a home ruler. As a fact, the threats of rebellion come from a minority in the province of Ulster.

Sir Edward Carson has the backing of a bare majority of one in the Ulster Parliamentary election. At the last election John Leslie, a Protestant Nationalist, was defeated in the city of Londonderry, a Protestant stronghold, by the scant margin of 140. A change of 75 votes in Derry would have given the Nationalists a majority of the Ulster delegation.

The census of last year shows the comparative strength of the Catholics and non-Catholics in Ulster:

Counties.	Square Miles.	Catholic.	Non-Catholic.
Armagh	1,211	118,440	300,104
Cavan	512	54,147	66,478
Derry	746	74,488	16,583
Down	816	64,456	76,185
Donegal	957	78,946	226,643
Fermanagh	1,870	132,943	35,477
Monaghan	715	34,749	27,062
Tyrone	500	53,841	18,054
Totals	8,587	690,129	888,433
Per Cent.	44	56

But the enormous preponderance of Orange Protestants in Belfast, which is the second city in Ireland and the metropolis of the northern half of the island, gives an impression that is not sustained by the facts. There the religious question which underlies political differences has taken on the complexion of proportion in industrial life. Since the present agitation began Catholic workmen have been mobbed and driven from their employment. Even in the Harland & Wolff shipyards they have been beaten and outrageously maltreated by their Orange fellow workmen. One man was killed outright and several others crippled for life in these disturbances, the injured men being Catholics in every instance. Because of the continued assaults made upon them all the Catholics employed in the Harland & Wolff yards quit work for a time. Being outnumbered three or four to one, they were in continual fear of their lives. Yet the men guilty of the outrages were constantly crying out that they were standing for religious freedom. Religious proscription has produced industrial proscription.

WINNING THE WEST AGAIN

As will be seen from the table printed above, the area dominated by the Orangemen comprises considerably less than half of Ulster. In the whole province the Catholics outnumber the Orangemen, but the congestion of the Orange population in four counties, two of them the most populous in the province, gives a fictitious idea of relative strength. If left to a popular vote tomorrow, home rule would carry in Ulster, since a considerable body of the non-Catholics are in favor of local self-government for Ireland.

That eminent but retired publicist, Abraham Ruef, is still busy instructing the people in the science of government. From his rural retreat he tells the people through the columns of the Bulletin how to make politics honest and pure, how to make the laws beneficial and their enforcement impartial and how to make our penal system ideal. But somehow Ruef's career as a practical politician has made an impression on the popular mind that his theories as an idealist cannot efface. It is the old story of thistles bearing figs and a perverse and prejudiced generation refusing to eat thereof. Ruef's efforts as a reformer are somewhat discredited because Fremont Older is playing Elisha to his Elijah. If people could be induced to forget Ruef's past they cannot forget his sponsor. They draw the line at Older, the apologist, for the McNamaras and the patron of thieves and assassins.

Wants to Know About Armageddon.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: What does Roosevelt mean by fighting for the Lord at Armageddon? Is it any better to fight for the Lord at Armageddon than at Milwaukee or Milpitas? Where is Armageddon anyhow—I can't find it on the map? I am from Missouri—show me.

PIKE COUNTY.

Armageddon is nowhere. It belongs in the category of Jack the Giant Killer and Robin Hood's barn. It is mentioned in the Book of Revelations as a place that St. John the Divine saw in a dream. It is still in the land of dreams so far as anybody knows. The Puritan followers of Cromwell and Fairfax were fond of saying they were fighting for the Lord at Armageddon, and the Colonel deemed it a good expression to use on his own account. The phrase never had any meaning that anybody could explain, nor has Roosevelt ever undertaken to explain it. All we know from what he says is that fighting for the Lord means supporting Roosevelt for a third term and that Armageddon is wherever the Colonel happens to be standing.

JOHN BROWN'S CABIN

The John Brown Cabin, near Ossawatomie, Kan., is to be torn down and moved to the John Brown Memorial Park in Ossawatomie, where it will be erected exactly as it stood for almost 60 years on the Odair farm west of the town. Workmen are engaged now dismantling the historic cabin.

Each part is numbered so it is removed so that no alteration will be made when the cabin is reconstructed in the park. The puncheons in the floors the stout cedar logs and the root are still in an excellent state of preservation. Many old papers and letters have been found in the cabin by the workmen, among them being several copies of the New York Independent of 1857.

The cabin is one of the few buildings that survived the raid of the pro-slavery forces. The old Read Schoolhouse, where the first night school for Negro refugees was conducted, now much changed and altered, the old Cedar Valley House, where George Crozer organized the Republican party in 1857, and the old stone (Congregational) church are the other old buildings that remain.

In 1858 the Rev. B. L. Adair, then chaplain at Fort Leavenworth, obtained a patent from President Buchanan to a claim west of Ossawatomie. With the assistance of his brother-in-law, John Brown and his son, he hewed and hauled the oak logs and erected the cabin on his claim. This property has never passed out of the Adair family. It is now occupied by Mrs. C. S. Adair and her son, Walter. She is the widow of Charles Adair, a son of the clergyman.

It was in this cabin that John Brown, stricken with the fever, was nursed and concealed from his enemies. It was here that his son, Frederick, was carried the morning of the day he was murdered, just preceding the skirmish between the little band of settlers and Captain Reed's band of border fighters. Here it was that old John Brown of Ossawatomie had the only shelter that he could call home.

Here the Adair family lived for many years until they were able to erect a more pretentious dwelling.

The old cabin is still in excellent condition, firm and rugged after the almost 60 years—KANSAS CITY JOURNAL.

LITTLE DUTCH PRINCESS

Today the Princess Juliana, heiress to the Dutch throne, attains the age of three, and her birthday will be the occasion of many festivities throughout Holland.

The Queen of Holland lives the greater part of the year at her country seat of Loo, near Appeldeorn, in Gelderland. There the Princess spends the whole day in the royal park, where she has her little baby house, her poultry yard, with the fowls she feeds with her own hands, her dog, two ponies and a deer.

Every day at the Loo, as well as at The Hague, some children are invited to play with her in order to mitigate as much as possible the double loneliness of her position as a future queen and as an only child.

The Queen likes to invite various children to turns, so that the Princess may learn at an early age to be friendly to all sorts of people and not to show too great a preference for a chosen few. These little 3-year-olds are quite free in their games and often treat their royal hostess with scant respect.

One of them, proud of her dainty patient leather shoes, said to the Princess: "I think my shoes much prettier than yours." Whereupon little Juliana looked ruefully at her strong laced-up boots, saying: "And yet these are my very best."

A few days before the court left The Hague the Princess was taken for a walk in the Scheveningen woods. It had rained during the night, and for the first time it dawned upon her young mind how delightful it is to walk in the puddles, and especially to stamp one's foot in them till the drops fly about.

This performance was witnessed by some admiring juvenile subjects, whose parents will no longer be able to admonish them with the saying so common in Dutch nurseries, "Juliana never does this." Their paragon has proved to be only human after all.

During an audience which the Prime Minister, Mr. Heenikerk, had with the Queen a few days ago, the Princess was sent for. When the nurse came to take her out for a drive, the Queen said: "Now say, 'Good-bye, your Excellency.'"

She could not be made to repeat these words, but as soon as the footman opened the door so that her retreat was safe, she cried out: "Good-bye, curly head," which allusion to Mr. Heenikerk's flowing mane was much appreciated by those present.

LA FRANZ HELD FOR MURDER OF WITHERS

SAN JOSE, Oct. 12.—Henry La Franz, son of a San Francisco saloon man, was held yesterday to the Superior Court without bail on the charge of having murdered the late O. A. Withers, a well-to-do citizen, whose body La Franz professed to have discovered after the suicide of Withers.

The action came at the close of a lengthy examination, which was taken up after two years on the evidence secured by Charles J. Fay, a private detective of San Francisco, who was placed in a cell with La Franz, while the latter was in prison in San Francisco on a charge of highway robbery. Fay testified today and his testimony was corroborated by Detective Cannon of the San Francisco Police Department.

Sheriff Langford was stubbornly opposed for re-election two years ago by a large number of friends of the Withers family, because of the failure of the authorities to apprehend the murderer of Withers.

DARK WAR CLOUDS AFFECT MARKETS

Balkan Situation Has World-Wide Influence; Stocks Unloaded.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Balkan situation was the dark cloud that hung over the financial markets of the world this week. European exchanges, in a state of demoralization, unloaded large blocks of our stocks here by direct and indirect sales, with heavy shrinkage in quoted values, particularly Canadian Pacific, which yielded over ten points yesterday.

Our market took the foreign selling very well, until towards the last, when it staggered perceptibly under the weight of the continued liquidation. Leading issues declined from three to five points on the week. Such support as offered proved unavailing against the heavy onslaught.

Domestic conditions continue altogether favorable. The latest government crop report more than confirmed recent promises, and railroads are moving the heaviest tonnage in years, while business in general continues to expand.

The September report of the steel corporation shows the largest amount of unfilled orders since the middle of 1907; production is in increased demand and further advances in finished products were announced.

The state of the copper trade, as seen in the recent statement of the producers, shows a decline in domestic and foreign demand, despite the price of the metal remains firm.

Call money did not attain its recent high level, but time loans indicated some irregularity. To what extent our monetary situation may be affected by foreign complications is necessarily a matter of conjecture, but European curtailment of our credits in that event is considered inevitable.

The San Francisco Y. M. C. A. team has been training faithfully for the last six weeks and promised to lower the time limit by a few feet. The Berkeley contingent may prove to be the dark horse.

The Oakland police department will assist in keeping the course clear for the runners, and all automobiles and bicycles, excepting the official cars, must keep to the rear of the last runner. Spectators may obtain the best view of the race from Twelfth street between the boat house and the Lakeshore Boulevard.

The following are the runners of the two local teams:

C. Wright, H. Hjelte, H. Courtney, J. G. Martin, R. Howden, J. Reading, George Hartwell, P. Coleman, J. Beatty, A. Carlson, E. Street, F. Stark, E. Loper, A. O'Kane, E. W. Davis, H. Carter, K. Shrinkage Noted When New York Transfer Tax Is Paid.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The total estate of the late Colonel John Jacob Astor will appraise at many millions less than has been supposed. This was indicated when a messenger from the office of Col. Ledyard & Millburn, attorneys for the Astors, went to the State Controller's office at Albany with a check for $3,150,000, representing the transfer tax as far as the state was concerned, the value of the estate to the executors.

This amount of tax indicated that the executors have computed the net value of the estate, after all debts, the commissions of the executors and other deductions have been eliminated, to be $26,000.

Previous estimates of the value of the estate have ranged from $75,000,000 to $150,000,000, with the Astor real estate frequently appraised at $100,000,000.

The tentative appraisal of the Astor real estate made by the experts agreed upon by counsel for the state and special counsel for the State Controller is $25,000,000. This does not include the other Astor property at the neck, which has not yet been appraised by representatives of the State Controller.

Colonel Astor left all but about $10,000,000 of his property to his son, William Vincent Astor, and the figure upon which the tax was based is said to be that the residuary estate willed to the eldest son is valued at $67,826,000.

The appraiser of paintings, engravings, miniatures, statuary and bronzes in Col.

the Rhinebeck house, gives his figure approximately at $480,000, while the final appraisal of all other personal property at $32,500,000.

The appraiser of Colonel Astor's property in the Hotel St. Regis has not been completed, but it is estimated at $10,000,000.

The executors have yet to appraise the stocks, bonds, mortgages and similar personal property, including the Rhinebeck real estate belonging to the estate, but it was learned today that the executors have agreed to this division of property at about $13,074,000.

Under the law the Astor estate gets a reduction of 5 per cent in the tax by paying the tax within six months of the date of Colon's Astor's death.

The monthly tax will not be in until next year. The rebate which the estate will receive under the 5 per cent reduction is about $1,580,000.

The State has been collecting transfer tax under various laws for several years, and the Astor inheritance tax is the largest paid during that time. The recent payment that compared, nearest the Astor tax was that on the estate of John A. Kennedy, the banker, who left a net estate of $1,000,000 in 1908.

CHALLENGES TITLE OF THIS 'PRINCE'

Consuls at New York Declare Lazarovich Is Masquerading.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 12.—"Prince" Stephen Lazar Eugene Lazarovich-Hrebennovich, author and world peace advocate now visiting Dr. and Mrs. David Starr Jordan, actually the head of a royal and imperial dynastic family of Servia or has he merely adopted the title of "prince" while making lecture tours of the United States?

This is a question that Stanford students and spectators are hotly asking, following receipt of a dispatch from New York saying that the Servian and Austrian consuls have challenged the claims of Lazarovich-Hrebennovich to the title of "prince." He admitted yesterday that he is not a real prince, saying he is given the title by courtesy, and because it suits his convenience.

"Prince" Lazarovich-Hrebennovich sits on the vine-covered veranda of the Jordan home chatting with Mrs. David Starr Jordan, and his wife, the "princess," formerly Miss Eleanor Hulda Calhoun of San Jose, and the daughter of the Duke of Servia. He is a democratic country where there are no titles with the exception of "king," he said. "The title of 'prince' is not constitutional. Hence I am not a constitutional prince, but a prince by courtesy. My great-grandfather was the head of a little province in Servia, but was driven out of the country 150 years ago—exiled, in other words."

"I intend to go to Servia as soon as possible and join the army. If King Peter refuses to let me join his forces I will join the armies of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro, and Serbia, and raising money for the Red Cross, work for war, but all the money are being handed by the banks."

"The charge that I am not a prince, was made by the Servian Consul here. Pupil of Columbia University, honorary consul for Servia in New York. Pupil not a Servian, as he claims, but an American. He is pretender, that is all I must have him for this."

BERKELEY MAN HONORED BY STANFORD STUDENTS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 12.—Eugene F. Kern of Berkeley was elected president of the university conference last evening, while M. T. Dooling of Hollister and R. W. Olmsted of Los Angeles are the new vice presidents of the secretaries respectively.

I. D. Summerville of Reno, Nev., F. E. Kern of Berkeley, L. L. Johnson of Bristol, Conn., A. W. Ambrose of Lockport, and M. T. Dooling of Hollister compose the first committee of five, known as the student council under the plan of self-government which students voted to accept at the last semester.

E. M. Calderwood of Palo Alto, P. C. McCormick of Escondido, J. Harrigan of Los Angeles, A. W. Higgins of Hickley, England; E. A. Jackson of Lawrence and T. Haraguchi of Nagasaki, Japan, have been elected to the Stanford Electrical Engineering society.

BROADWAY SHOW ATTRACTS CROWDS

The Barbary Coast of San Francisco has been reproduced and made into a worthy vaudeville offering. Judging from the crowds that have seen the show it has been one of the most pleasing numbers that has ever played the Broadway Theater.

The management announced complete sale of tickets for tomorrow. Starting Monday the "Blanch Walsh pictures will be shown at each performance. Advanced reports say this is one of the greatest photoplays that has ever been produced.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. In Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after birth.

Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information.

FORMER GAMBLER TO BE SPEAKER

Harry Brodaski Will Address
Church Meeting on the Racing Game.

Tomorrow evening there will be a meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, Fourteenth and Franklin streets, at 7:30 o'clock, to oppose the proposed bill to legalize race track gambling in California. The meeting will be addressed by Judge Everett J. Brown of the Superior Court and Harry Brodaski, who was for many years a race track gambler and who will give facts from his own experience.

Rev. Earle D. Sims, returned missioner of China and evangelist of Northern California, Boston, and Oregon, will commence revival meetings Sunday, October 13th, at the Melrose Baptist Church, corner Forty-seventh and Broadway, Oakland. On Monday evening Mr. Sims will lecture on "My Trip Around the World" and on Tuesday evening, October 15, he will appear dressed in Chinese costume and lecture on "My Six Years' Stay in the Interior of China." Lecture free. Following the lectures evangelistic services will be conducted every evening at 4:30 o'clock and the meetings may continue for a month.

To celebrate the clearing of debt from the site belonging to St. James Presbyterian Church, East Thirty-eighth street, near Fourteenth avenue, on which will be erected a new church building, a praise and thanksgiving service will be held by the members of the congregation tomorrow afternoon. The praise services Sunday will be at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and will be under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Chas. E. Campbell.

At the Church of the Advent (Episcopal), East Sixteenth street and Twelfth avenue, social services of Thanksgiving will be held tomorrow, to express the thankfulness of the members of the congregation for the many improvements recently made to the Church, the recent presentation of a gift on the Altar, and the Living Temple, and at 7:30 on "The Songful Christian."

The program for Morning Prayer and Anti Communion service, 11 a. m., will be as follows: Organ prelude, Antiphonant, D. Nat. Et. H. Lemare; Processional, Hymn 145; J. B. THE social season has opened with so many activities that it promises to be one of the most brilliant we have had in many years. On both sides of the bay there is a long list of coming-out parties for debutantes, besides an endless procession of teas, dinner dances, luncheons, receptions, bridge teas and musicals. Music is to hold a large share in all programs arranged for the winter, and on all sides dates for musicals are being announced. October seems to be the month for dinners, and apropos of that theme, dinner-giving is the test of the good hostess.

A new book gives us some interesting facts concerning the "grande dame" of the Parisian world:

"I once heard a mischievous Englishman (says Miss Maude Annesley in her entertaining book, 'My Parisian Year') ask a duchess of the old school if she were going to a garden party at the president's palace. Her head went up into the air, and she answered haughtily, 'I am sending my concierge!' The writer adds that nearly all these Faubourgeois are Royalists, and nearly all religious; that they live in a world of their own, ignore the république as much as possible, and keep up as well as they can the old pomp. 'It always seems to me that they are waiting. They and their ancestors have seen republics come and go. Will it last forever? they seem to think.'

DRAWS THE LINE BETWEEN THEM.

Miss Annesley distinguishes between the Anglo-Saxon sportsman and his French confrere. "Amongst us a sportsman is a man who does something in the way of sport; here it includes the lookeron. Any man who goes to see a cricket match, who goes racing, who watches the polo, is a sportsman." . . . A small instance of how 'smart' it is to use a word connected with sport: There is a small shop in Paris which sells cravats, collars, etc., over the shop is blazoned 'Le Steeple.' For some time I imagined that this had some connection with a church opposite; it referred to 'Steeple-Chase!'

Miss Annesley notes that the custom of dinner parties in restaurants has not yet crept into Parisian good society. "Dinners are given by the real haut monde at home. It is still not considered comme il faut for a grande dame to dine in public. This is a curious contrast to London and New York, where the restaurants are filled with the highest in the land." The "tiv' o'clock" at the tea places is, however, permitted.

The Parisians suffer from nervous attacks to an appalling extent. "If one invites any Parisians to dinner one must be prepared for regimes (writes Miss Annesley). This man cannot eat bread and must drink only white wine; that woman can eat only 'alimentaires'; another must begin with hot water. . . . I was at a dinner once where there were sixteen guests; seven of these were on special diet, and three had little bottles of pills with them! . . . I was at the house of a noted writer one afternoon, and his wife took his temperature two times in an hour and a half. The last time the thermometer marked 97 degrees. Madame flew to the telephone and implored the doctor to come."

Of course the grande dame of Parisian society does not have to entertain at hotels and cafes, for the domestic science problem is not so acute. In this land, where kitchens are as often without cooks, the bright young matron who wishes to be hospitable must perform entertain at a club or at a hotel or else eliminate from her social activities all question of dinner-giving.

ELABORATE AFFAIR AT EBELL LUNCHEON.

"One of the most elaborate affairs of the week was the luncheon given at the Ebell Club on Tuesday, and these Tuesday luncheons are rapidly becoming leading social events of each month. Mrs. Powey's wife and able leadership is making itself felt and the Ebell Club is assuming the place it rightfully deserves in the vanguard of club activities.

There was a time when one rather shrank from a club luncheon—it left no time to one's imagination. But now the club woman sits down to a perfectly prepared luncheon, delicious and delightfully served.

The Ebell luncheon on Tuesday was excellent, and one heard compliments and admiration for the good work of that club. However, Mrs. A. M. Pinn, whose credit is due and few members of the season have been so highly satisfactory. At the round table were Mrs. Powey and the honored guests and many guests of the club, and some prominent persons in a number of departments. The tables were lined lovely decorations of yellow flowers, and after the luncheon there was a program, the guests being entertained with some exquisite dancing.

Among the guests of the afternoon were:

MRS. WICKHAM HAVENS
HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Wickham Havens was the hostess on Wednesday at the second of the series of bridge luncheons with which she has opened the season. The elaborate luncheon was followed by bridge, which was well attended by many guests, as among them were some of the best players on this side of the bay. Elaborate gowns were also the order of the hour and among the most effective were those worn by Mrs. William Henshaw, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. Charles E. Parcell and Mrs. Joseph Chancellor of San Francisco.

Mrs. Havens has carried out for an other luncheon in the near future, when forty guests will again enjoy her hospitality.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Katherine McElrath, whose picture appears in tonight's Meddler, announced her engagement to James Black this week. The pretty bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. James McElrath and is well-known socially, her family being an old and prominent one. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Black of Linda Vista.

The young couple are to occupy a picture-que cottage not far from the Coogan home at Linda Vista until some time in the future, when their own beautiful home will be built.

Many compliments are planned for the bride when she returns from her wedding trip, and among her hostesses will be Miss Downey, Mrs. Dudley Kinsell and Mrs. Philip Clay.

MRS. J. A. DARLING

HOSTESS OF WEEK.

Many teas are the order of the hour, some of them just informal gatherings, when a pleasant time is spent with a delightful hostess over a friendly cup of tea. Others are more formal, and we find many bridge teas scheduled for autumn days. They serve a two-fold purpose. Brides enthusiastic may enjoy a delightful game, and they may be joined later in the afternoon by friends who do not care to spend much time in playing bridge.

Mrs. Waterhouse was formerly one of the charming girls of the Friday Night Club. She has a very beautiful home in Honolulu, where her husband has large business interests.

Mrs. Darling is one of the most absolutely sincere women in our social world. She has a deep contempt for sham of any kind, and the nouveau riche, trusting to a money asset only, would do well to avoid Mrs. Darling.

For her opinions of people and things are always frankly expressed. Mrs. Darling entertained her friends in her Clay street home, and among her guests were:

Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Henry Dodge, Mrs. Edward Martin, Mrs. William Kip.

Mrs. Darling has cards out for another tea next Tuesday, and her guests of honor will be Mrs. Arthur Murray and Mrs. John Wissau, two popular army matrons.

Mrs. Darling spends a great deal of time abroad, and her friends are always glad of the opportunity of meeting her during her brief visits to San Francisco.

Mrs. A. G. Freeman sends out cards.

Mrs. Allen G. Freeman has sent cards out for an informal tea, which she will give on Thursday, October 17, in honor of Miss Kissell. Mrs. Freeman will receive her friends in her delightful home, "Allenoke," in North Berkeley. It is one of the beautiful homes of that section of the city, and one of the most hospitable.

Mrs. William Shea often entertains.

Among the young matrons across the bay who have been extensively entertained recently is Mrs. William Shea, who was formerly popular Lalla Wenzelberger. She was formerly a student at the University of California, and she has many friends among the younger matrons both of Oakland and Berkeley.

Mrs. John Drum entertained at a luncheon for Mrs. Shea, and her sister, Mrs. A. E. Graupen, gave a large tea for her. Other entertainments were planned for her by Mrs. Clarence Oddie and Mrs. Howard Holmes.

Mrs. Shea is to join her husband, Lieutenant Shea, U. S. N., who is stationed in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

REV. ANNA SHAW IS HONORED GUEST.

Among the distinguished guests of the week across the bay is Rev. Anna Shaw, in whose honor on Thursday evening an elaborate dinner was given in Scottish Rite Hall. It is a number of years since Miss Shaw was here, having come to California to make the suffrage campaign with Susan B. Anthony. It was not won then, but the movement had an important influence.

Mrs. John Waterhouse (Martha

McElrath) arrived from Honolulu this week, and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. S. T. Alexander, in the latter's beautiful new home at Piedmont. Mrs. Waterhouse is planning to remain only two weeks, and so the days of her stay will be very busy.

Mrs. Alexander is to give a tea for her daughter on the sixteenth, and casting a ballot in defense of the principle is a matter of course. Many of us met Rev. Anna Shaw

PERSIAN PROPHET'S CALL HEeded BY WOMAN OF PALO ALTO

Mrs. Isabell C. Merriman Will Teach Children of Temple.

SAN JOSE Oct. 12—Mrs. Isabell C. Merriman of Palo Alto, philanthropist, and sister of Mrs. Sarah E. Winchester wife of the inventor of the Winchester arms, has become a convert to the faith of Abdul Baha and will shortly follow the Persian prophet to Palestine where she has been "commanded to teach the children of the temple."

The order to follow the Persian prophet to the Far East was received by Mrs. Merriman following a meeting with the prophet and President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University at the home of Mrs. Merriman in Palo Alto Wednesday evening when she entered twenty-nine adepts to the faith.

It is the order of the Prophet Abdul Baha that Mrs. Merriman sail immediately for Persia and there assume the charge of "teaching the children of the temple" on Mount Carmel, where, as Mrs. Merriman explains it, "The prophet Elijah climbed and prayed, and where the fire came down from heaven and destroyed the fowls that had been sent to take him a prison."

Mount Carmel, where Mrs. Merriman will go to teach the Persian children the English language and instruct them in the ways of the Far West, is situated near the Bay of Acre and the town of St. Jean d'Acre where the order of the Carmelite friars which spread into Europe was founded. Mrs. Merriman who for years has been engaged in philanthropic work in San Francisco and San Jose, said yesterday:

"I consider it a high honor to be commanded to follow this famous Persian prophet to the land of his fathers. The Persians are a race which I admire and although I have not fully decided whether I will return with him there is nevertheless the feeling that it is a chance to do good for humanity. I have for many years believed in the teachings of the Persian movement, but not being in the heyday of youth I doubt the wisdom of going at this time into a strange land and to strange customs. I will consider the matter carefully and may return with the prophet to Persia."

Suit Thrown Out

NEW YORK Oct. 12—There was a sequential ending to the suit of Edith St. Clair against Abraham Erlanger before Justice Page in the Supreme Court yesterday. The justice withdrew a jury, making the case a mistrial, and fined Yankee Doodle of counsel with Max Steiner for Miss St. Clair $50 for contempt of court. In other words, the suit was thrown out of court.

The suit by Miss St. Clair was for the recovery of $2500 due as an installment on a $25,000 contract. The climax came after a long encounter between Bouvier and William T. Jerome, Erlanger's lawyer, as to whether or not Erlanger should answer if he and Miss St. Clair had been on terms of undue intimacy. Erlanger maintained that he should not be forced to answer. Jerome denied the difficulty of concluding such relationship, and then pressed the witness as to his relations with another woman. He was asked at this point by the court: "Then the lawyer asked abruptly.

"Who is Leonard?"

"Leonard is a man and an actor, I guess."

"And husband?" continued Bouvier, extracting from a portfolio affidavit sworn to by Erlanger in a suit brought in June, 1911, by Mrs. Erlanger.

"I don't know that," replied Erlanger.

"You know that Leonard was the husband of the lady you married?"

"I do not know any such thing," responded Erlanger.

May Lose Savings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—Mrs. Kate Coombs who for the past thirty-five years has managed the sheets which are used to cover the money-making machine of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing when they are not in operation, will have an appeal to other agencies than the distributing office of the bureau to handle justice for the service which she has performed during all that time.

SOCCER GAME IS EXHIBITION OF SKILL

CLEVER 'KIDDIES' TO SHOW TALENT

The game between the soccer teams of Franklin and Mosswood was one of the best seen on the local ground. It was nip and tuck from start to finish but the Franklin team consistent play won the game 1 to 0. Gordon, captain of the Franklin team is a clever punter using both feet with great dexterity. Daborn is a speedy runner and follows up the ball well. Terry also showed that he had more than offensives when he gained possession of the ball. Grant, another player is perhaps one of the best backs of the playground league. The teams lined up as follows:

WIN FAST GAME

The Bushrod Intermediates recently defeated the Golden Gate Stars in a fast game of baseball by a score of 12 to 4. The Bushrod Intermediates struck out 16 men. The Bushrod team easily clashed with the second team of Oakland High and were beaten by a score of 5 to 3. Today, the Bushrod rusties lined up against "Poh" High and next Saturday will go against Boone's Academy. Saturday evening the Bushrod basketball team will line up against the Plymouth Athletic Club at Plymouth Center. In the afternoon of the same day Bushrod will line up against Mosswood in their first game of American football.

GAMES OF TODAY.

This morning the Mosswood Midgets played to De Fremery, where they lost 10 to 4. The De Fremery Juniors crossed bats with the Pacific Club of San Francisco on their home grounds. Last Saturday the Marshalls defeated the Rockets in a very close game of baseball by a score of 9 to 8.

In the afternoon of last Saturday the De Fremery girls' team lost the visiting Melrose team by a score of 8 to 15.

On Sunday the West Oakland Merchants took the North Beach Outlaws into camp to the tune of 14 to 7. Carter and McLaughlin won the honors in the box for the home team.

OPEN-AIR SCHOOLS ARE DISCUSSED

Mothers' Club Listens to Discussion From Three Different Standpoints.

The Washington School Mothers' Club met at the school building, Sixtieth and Shattuck avenue, last night to discuss open air schools and their importance to children. The subject was discussed from three standpoints that of the mother, the teacher and the physician. Mrs. C. C. Boynton made an address giving the mother's side of the subject. Prof. Childs discussed the teacher's interest in the matter, and Dr. Ergo A. Major explained the worthiness of the movement from the physician's standpoint.

Dr. Majors quoted excerpts from an article published in THE TRIBUNE concerning the success of the open air schools in Detroit and urged their importance to the health welfare of the child.

He declared that much of the throat trouble and other ill health prevalent among school children could be prevented by open air school rooms; that fresh air has ever been and will ever be the greatest tonic and health giver in the world, and that half the maladies of mankind are caused from ignorance concerning its God-given qualities.

City Architect J. J. Donovan was to have spoken from the architect's standpoint, but was unable to be present.

Besides the addresses, several vocal selections were given by Mrs. Kate Dix.

The committee in charge of last night's meeting was composed of Miss Margaret Parker Russ, Mrs. George A. Major, and Mrs. J. R. McGrath. Mrs. W. F. Turbett is president of the club.

Last night's meeting was the second of series arranged by the committee of the Washington School Mothers' Club, whose members will meet monthly and consider problems of the children and the school relation to the home.

HARDWARE DEALER REPORTED MISSING

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12—George Price, a well-known hardware dealer of the Mission district who lives at 138 Shotwell street, has been missing from his home since Tuesday and the police this morning began a search for him. Mr. Price became detective headquarters today that he would return to his home at 138 Shotwell street.

The officers detailed to investi-

BERKELEY CLERK
DENIES CHARGESSeaborn Declares Documents
He Destroyed Were Private, Not Public.

BERKELEY, Oct. 12—Walter J. Seaborn, city clerk, today emphatically denied the basis of truth in the charges of C. L. Prival, secretary of the Municipal Ownership League, that he destroyed public records of Commissioner C. G. Turner's hearing of Prival's previous charges against City Attorney W. E. Brown. Major J. Stitt, Weller had no right to make to Prival's charges that he has protected Seaborn.

"The Brothers hearing was not an official or a secret hearing," he said. "We were called at the request of Commissioner Turner and simply for his convenience. They were not public documents and neither Prival nor anyone else but Turner and myself had any right to them. They were personal, so I told him that I finally tore them up. They were my property not the city's and I had a perfect right to do as I pleased with them."

"Regarding Prival's further charge that I destroyed a registration, I have this to say: The law provides that registration shall continue to thirty days before the election. It has always been a moot point whether the period of registration is ended or election day itself. Backed by considerable weighty authority I have opposed it and accepted a registration blank Sunday. To make sure of their being no irregularities, however, I did this the day before. It is a mere matter of technicality."

Prival brings his accusations on the basis of a penal code section that makes it a crime to destroy public documents. He filed a complaint with Alameda County Clerk Adams shortly before noon yesterday. Adams has appealed to the district attorney's office for advice as to what disposition to make of it.

SEARCH FOR MAN
ENDS IN HOSPITALRelatives Claim George Easdale Suffers From Lapse of Memory.

Search on the part of relatives in San Francisco for George H. Easdale who left Chicago on October 4 over the Santa Fe bound for the coast ended this morning in failure, according to the news where a man being held in the detention ward was identified by his sisters. Mrs. George Eaton of 1225 Forty-fifth avenue, and Miss Emily Easdale of 1600 California street, both of Berkeley, concluded that he had not seen his brother for ten years.

Easdale was taken into custody by the Oakland police on October 9. He was found wandering about the streets and unable to tell his name or where he was staying as to his identity or relatives. Yesterday he was removed to the hospital and this morning his relatives read of the circumstances in the papers. They went at once to the hospital and Easdale was removed to the office of Dr. J. W. Williams, who will care for him until he comes necessary to send him to a sanatorium.

An attack of brain fatigue, recurring after a lapse of ten years, resulted in the loss of memory, and he came to California in hopes of regaining his health. He was placed on the train by friends in Chicago. All went well until he reached Corcoran, a little town south of Fresno. There he left the train and wandered away.

Henry B. Roberts, a wealthy rancher who lives five miles out of Corcoran rescued Easdale from a near-by stream into which he had fallen and cared for him in his ranch house, on October 11. Roberts then took him to town and placed him on a train bound for the bay cities and slipped a note into the man's pocket which later identified him. A call was made to the San Francisco police, who sent telegrams to the sisters in San Francisco, notifying them of the train upon which their brother would arrive at Richmond.

After leaving the train at Richmond, instead of taking the ferry for San Francisco, the traveler, having apparently lost his self-control, took a street car into Oakland and was picked up by the police. He was then taken to the station of the railroad telegrapher in the firm of Carson, Pierce, Scott &amp; Company in Chicago for the last thirty years. He is unmarried. Ten years ago he had a mental attack and at that time came to California, where with his brother he had a home. Recently, finding his health failing, again he decided upon a trip and had about arranged to go to Dublin, Ireland, where he was persuaded to visit his sisters in San Francisco. His brother, who is now in law, is a wealthy contractor in San Francisco.

SEVERAL SUBWAY
MEETINGS CALLEDC. R. Smith Arranged for Mass
Meeting and Mayor Noy Calls Second.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 12—Judging from present plans there will be a multiplicity of subway meetings in Alameda the next ten days. A few days ago C. R. Smith arranged for a citizens' mass meeting to be held in the city hall on October 17. Last night Major W. H. Noy addressed a letter to the council in which he suggested that the council call a meeting for October 22. The mayor in his letter also suggested that Congressman J. R. Knowland, County Supervisor Perry Haviland and Mayor Frank K. Mote of Oakland be invited guests.

County Supervisor Haviland has recently returned from a trip west and abroad during which he paid special attention to subway construction. He returns very favorably impressed with the feasibility of building a subway under Oakland harbor and has large maps of new and some of the two Alameda meeting programs.

It is believed that the C. R. Smith meeting will be followed by a meeting of the

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

NORTH RICHMOND
GETS NEW STREET TO HOLD ANNUAL WILD WEST SHOW

Region Will Be Tapped by Another Thoroughfare. Aid-ing Community.

RICHMOND, Oct. 12.—Permission has been obtained from the Southern Pacific railroad company and the state railroad commission for a street crossing over the belt railroad tracks in the factory section at the northern part of the city that will give that section another thoroughfare leading directly to the well-known "huter," Santos Bernal, and Miss Edna Ward were married on Wednesday, the 2nd, at the home of Santos Bernal, a local justice performing the ceremony.

Bernal, who will ride again this year, is a Santa Clara man, and probably one of the best riders in this part of California. His wife will also be an attraction and conquer a hitherto uncircled beast. Besides the Bernal's, there will appear Jim Walters, Sam Howe and Gabe Bernal, every one of them riders who have appeared in previous contests and shown their skill and bravery to Washington township people.

Texas George, a trick shooter and rope-thrower, has been secured as an added attraction.

A free barbecue has been arranged for the noon hour, with Ed Roderick as the chef.

The exhibition is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. on the ball grounds, and Irvington is extending an invitation to all surrounding towns to be present and enjoy the fun.

MAN BOUND OVER FOR ATTEMPT TO MURDER

RICHMOND, Oct. 12.—Eugene Johnson, formerly of Richmond and later of Bakersfield, who is accused of attempting to kill his wife with a razor in a boarding house here because she refused to return to him after separation, was held to answer to the superior court yesterday, following his preliminary examination before Justice Roth. He was without an attorney and announced that he would plead guilty to the charge of assault with an intent to kill. His wife and brother, to whom he had written his threatening letter, were produced in evidence.

BIRTHS BEAT DEATHS
MORE THAN TWO TO ONE

RICHMOND, Oct. 12.—In the report of Dr. C. R. Blake, city health commissioner, for September, there are twenty births and twelve deaths, and to make the record better for Richmond's claim as the healthiest city in the state for the population, the figures show that of the twelve deaths only eight were local people, four having been brought to local hospitals from other points, and from the remaining eight three were still-born children. In the same month last year there were 17 births and in 1910 there were 16.

RICHMOND NOTES

RICHMOND, Oct. 12.—James W. Griffin of Richmond and Berry's E. Lacy of San Francisco were married Thursday at the home of the bride and are off on a honeymoon in the southern part of the state.

Arrangements have been completed by Richmond parlor of the Native Sons to entertain the governor of the Native Sons at its meeting in Sequoia hall last Wednesday evening.

The Maccabees club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. L. L. Parker and plans were discussed for the liaison on the part of the club on October 31.

"A Feast of Seven Tables," a seven-course dinner served in a novel manner, will be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church in Sequoia hall on the evening of October 21.

The plans of the new edifice to be erected by the Presbyterians have been received and a meeting is to be called at once to take action about commencing active steps for the erection of the building.

Although too late to register for the general election, registration is going on now and rapidly in this city for the purpose of voting in the November 3rd election, the registration for which closes October 19, while for the water system election it closes November 3.

The refuse dumped on the Hill property is from Oakland, Hill having the nuisance.

A mass meeting is to be held and further steps devised to abate the nuisance.

SAN PABLO 'COMPANIONS'
ENTERTAIN VISITORS

SAN PABLO, Oct. 12.—Visited by a number of the grand officers from San Francisco and other high officials from other cities, San Pablo Circle, No. 248, Companions of the Forest of this place, last evening held one of the best social and fraternal events in its history. Grand Chief Trumble, Grand Sub-Chief Weller, Past Grand Chief Rangers Wudderlich, Sherman and McCullian, all of San Francisco, and many members of Silver Spray Circle of Richmond and members from Berkeley and Almaden circles were also guests of the evening. Following the initiation work a banquet and social session was enjoyed.

50 ACCOUNTS OPENED
IN POSTAL SAVINGS BANK

HAYWARD, Oct. 12.—The first unofficial annual report of the Postal Savings Bank was made by Postmaster A. DeBartolo, showing the institution to have been successful in its operation.

According to the report, the number of accounts opened in the city and the number of new accounts opened in the month of October was 1,000.

MURDERED COWBOY
HEIR TO FORTUNEInvestigation Made of Slaying of McMillen In Pueblo.

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 12.—Sister Agnes Jerome, from the New York Foundling Asylum, is investigating the killing here almost two years ago of Frank McMillen, a cowboy, who was called from his room in a local hotel and shot to death. She believes that he may have been the missing heir to a large English estate.

The missing heir was left at the New York Foundling Asylum more than twenty years ago. After being adopted by a Colorado mining man all trace of the child was lost. Recently word came that the foundling was here to inquire through the death of a relative in England and the sisters connected with the institution began a search for him.

Sister Agnes came here several days ago with a number of children who are to be adopted by Colorado people.

SPEEDERS' COURT
STOPS BUSINESSTribunal for Automobile and Motorcycle Offenders
Adjourn for Winter.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The special court for automobile and motorcycle speeders was abandoned yesterday for the winter by Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal Court. Lack of business was given as the reason for discontinuing the special branch.

Speeding cases have been so scarce since Justice Maxwell took charge of the court that he has had practically nothing to do. The heavy fines imposed and the determination shown by the judges to accept no excuse for fast driving, is believed to have had a good effect on habitual speeders. If there is need for it, the Chief Justice says, this branch of the court will again be established in the spring.

PENNSYLVANIANS ARE BENEFITED
BY ORGANIZATION

DR. J. J. MOYER.

The Pennsylvania Society of Alameda county has been formed for the purpose of promoting acquaintance, sociability and assisting newly arrived Pennsylvanians.

The society has made great progress, and under its efficient officers much good is promised of it.

Meetings are held every Wednesday evening in Rice Institute, and with jollity, concert and games, the evening is one of great pleasure. All former Pennsylvanians are invited to attend and meet with local Pennsylvanians.

Dr. J. J. Moyer is president of the Pennsylvania Society of Alameda county.

SAN RAFAEL YOUTHS
CHARGED WITH CRIME

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 12.—The charge of murder will be placed by District Attorney Boyd against Samuel Baxter and Harry Drew Wherland, who are held here pending the result of shooting Sunday night of Sergeant Patrick Durkin.

Durkin's death yesterday in the Presidio hospital, according to the evidence secured by the sheriff's office, was the result of a revolver shot fired by one of a party of several Tiburon youths led by Baxter and Wherland, after an altercation between Durkin's crowd and the town boys which started in McNeil's saloon.

Joe Tasca, the Italian gardener, was released for lack of evidence. Wherland is a timekeeper for the Northwestern Pacific railroad company in Tiburon, and Baxter was employed as bartender for Fred Hackett.

COMES LONG DISTANCE TO BE ARRESTED HERE

Herman Chene, aged 20 years, who, with his brother, made his way across the continent to find his mother, some weeks ago, was arrested in San Francisco by Inspector William Quigley and James Drew and will have to face two charges of burglary. It is alleged that he entered the Hotel Metropolitan at Eighth and Franklin streets September 23 and stole garments and suitcases from the rooms of G. Ido, B. Mount and Harry Lyons. On October 5 Chene is alleged to have taken a revolver from the room of F. F. Phillips in the Arcade hotel, and a safety razor from that of Charles Bell. Chene confesses having served two years in the reformatory of Palmsfield, Ind., for the theft of a shotgun.

DR. FRITCH IS FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

DETROIT, Oct. 12.—A jury late last night declared Dr. George A. Fritch not guilty of the murder of Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor, whose dismembered body was found in Ecorse creek, near Detroit, in August, 1909. It is charged that the girl met her death in Dr. Fritch's office and the physician cut up the body and threw it in the water to conceal the crime.
